

Speaker 1: You might have one loose corner, and at that point it becomes a weak link and it can cause a catastrophic failure in a high wind event.

Speaker 2: We've had people that will postpone it one, two, three years knowing that they needed a roof, and continue having leaks in their house, but they're waiting for a hurricane. All it does is create more problems because now they've got rotten wood that they're going to have to pay to get fixed. So, you got material, you got labor, things like that happen by neglecting the leaks in their homes.
